Dear Pastors and Churches,

Greetings from the Tweets on our first frosty day of November. It was a surprise to see all of the grass covered with a blanket of heavy frost this morning! I trust that all of you are rejoicing in the blessings of our Great God and all that He has done. What we see today in the world is sad and causes us to bow before Him and cry out to Him for the peace of Israel and the salvation which will come one day to that nation. They have their history written for them to read, but blinded eyes cannot see. They need the Great Physician to open their spiritual eyes to reveal who He is and has always been!

I have been delinquent for some reason and I apologize to you. I meant to write last month, but failed to do so! I have been in touch with the three pastors many times, and without fail, they express from their hearts what a great blessing your help has been to them! It is like you have given to them a large basket of food which helps them out so much. The inflation which we have here has reached their shores as well. They tell me of the price increases, and supplies in general have more than doubled. And now they are living under a socialistic president, who is changing the way they were used to living. The "WOKE" mentality with the same gender confusion that we see here in our schools has also made its presence known in the new laws of Honduras. However, we thank the Lord for the Independent Baptist influence in the village schools on the North coast, because our three sister churches have teachers in them who do have the truth and will not fall for the evil which the government desires them to teach.

The pastors and their families thank you, and I thank you all for your prayers and generosity to help these faithful ones continue to preach, pray, visit, and reach out to the lost of their communities with the Gospel of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

With our love to you and the Gospel,

Ted & Sylvia Tweet
