

Growing Up

Eph 4:14-15 That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive; 15 But speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ:

I. Growing Up Into Christ Implies a Previous Time of Immaturity In Spiritual Things Out of Which We Are To Grow

- ❖ Immaturity has certain evidences that we would expect to see
 - As Children behave and think differently than adults, so new or immature believers may behave and think differently from mature Christians
 - More oriented toward the physical, the “right now,” the pragmatic,
 - May be more prone to making wrong spiritual choices as they move through spiritual childhood
 - May be more prone to come to wrong conclusions about how God operates than more mature believers
 - Can sometimes misinterpret what scripture means
 - Sometimes when new or immature believers have no source for consultation, they will come to their own erroneous conclusions about scripture
 - Paul’s admonition to Timothy should be a powerful lesson to us about the importance of human agency in passing on the truths of God: (2Tim. 2:2) “And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also.”
 - New or immature Christians have a lot of questions that need answering
 - The new or less developed life in Christ is full of spiritual unknowns for new or immature believers
 - They often lack the mature knowledge to fully understand the deeper things of the Lord
 - Some questions by new or immature believers can sometimes sound unusual and even stunning to old timers
 - There is a parallel to how little kids sometimes ask some pretty unusual questions
 - Why do birds fly?
 - Why does cutting onions make you cry?

- Why is there air?
 - Why does ice melt?
 - What is paper?
 - Why does the sun go away?
 - Why can't I see God?
- ❖ ANSWERS are critically important for new or immature believers
- They form the basis for the level of service, and sometimes the advancement in level of maturity you can expect from them
 - They form the basis for the soundness of their outlook on spiritual things
 - WRONG ANSWERS can thoroughly confuse new or immature believers
 - Peter makes a statement about giving answers that certainly fits with how mature Christians should approach answering questions by immature believers: 1Pet. 3:15 “But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear:”
 - Again, the example set by God is what mature Christians should follow when giving good answers to immature believers: James 1:5 “If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.
- ❖ WRONG ANSWERS for the spiritually immature may come more from example than by verbal or written instruction
- There is a saying about human children that was penned by James Baldwin: “Children have never been very good at listening to their elders, but they have never failed to imitate them.”
 - There was a 60s public service commercial that really illustrates this idea. It was entitled “like father like son.” It showed a little boy imitating his father (painting scene, car washing scene, rock throwing scene, smoking scene)
 - Jesus, in teaching humility and service by washing His disciple's feet had this to say about His message: (John 13:15) “For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you. “
 - The apostle Paul, champion of the rule of being a good example wrote (Philippians 3:17) “Brethren, be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so as ye have us for an example.”
- ❖ But, Despite Their Apparent Immaturity and Lack of Knowledge, New or Immature Christians Can Sometimes Provide a Fresh Outlook On the Life of Faith
- Like children going to the zoo for the first time; seeing an eclipse of the moon or sun for the first time; going on a trip through miles of beautiful landscape and moving sights, the experience of conversion and beginning of life-service to Christ has a newness about it that can't be matched.

❖ II. Growing Up Has Certain Evidences Which Indicate Advancement In Development

- Less focus on the physical, more focus on the spiritual
- Beginning to develop a body of spiritual answers, while still having questions
- Developing depth of perception regarding the awe-inspiring
- Christ as Savior, and the experience of discovering Him is still the awe-inspiring trip of a lifetime to the maturing believer, but it has gained depth as the understanding and appreciation of it grows in them.
- The unfolding landscape of a trip through the Bible still carries the powerful ability to hold maturing Christians captive, but they see more than the mere landscape;
 - There is a hidden flower in every green field of bible chapter, a spiritual bird of most beautiful plumage perched in every tree of verse, a multitude of dawn colors of spiritual meaning in every sunrise lesson in the Book

III. Growing Up In Christ Results From a Certain Influence

- ❖ “But speaking the truth in love, may grow up....”
 - Two elements; one of action, the other of attitude, are seen here
 - First, “speaking the truth” : Mat. 12:34-35 “...out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. 35 A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things....”
 - Second, “speaking the truth in love”
 - The process involves action born of the right inward attitude on the mature believers part
 - Notice that this directive in scripture is not given as a commandment about behavior (although it should be taken as one), but is given as a formula for growing up.

IV. Growing Up Results In Some Level of Spiritual Adulthood

- ❖ Spiritual adulthood should qualify believers as teachers
 - Heb 5:12 For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat.

- That capacity extends beyond the church building walls and into daily living. Notice what apostle Paul instructs Titus about concerning the older church members and their role in teaching:
 - Titus 2:3-5 The aged women likewise, that they be in behavior as becometh holiness, not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things; 4 That they may teach the young women to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children, 5 To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.
- So, Spiritual adults have a responsibility and privilege to be teachers of the things of God
- Spiritual adults develop skill in the word of righteousness
 - Heb 5:13-14 “For every one that useth milk is unskillfull in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe. 14 But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age,”
- Spiritual adults can use the meat of God’s word because they have exercised their senses to prove what is good and what is evil.
 - Heb 5:14 “... even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil.”
- Spiritual adults develop a sense of what is spiritually important
 - 1Cor. 14:20 “Brethren, be not children in understanding: howbeit in malice be ye children, but in understanding be men.”
- Spiritual adults settle down into a more stable spiritual life
 - Col. 1:23 “If ye continue in the faith grounded and settled, and be not moved away from the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, and which was preached to every creature which is under heaven;....”
- ❖ Maturity is the art of living in peace with that which we cannot change. — Anonymous
